EXECUTIVE COACHING PACKAGES

Weekend Inspiration Intensive This is a leadership retreat held in the San Francisco Bay area that is focused on uncovering and creating personal values, goals and strategies. The objective is to coach attendees to be their personal best by recognizing their potential, leveraging their experiences, and maximizing their current situation for future opportunities. You will leave inspired and equipped with a plan of action to live your dreams.

1:1 and Group Coaching 1:1 is for those who want personal coaching in a specific area of opportunity or development. Group coaching is for individuals who may have the same needs and are willing to be coached by a certified coach virtually along with others they know.

Master Mind This opportunity is ideal for a limited and select group of high achieving and high potential individuals who want to obtain over the top performance in a specific area they have identified. They will commit to join weekly virtual calls with a certified facilitator. We focus on one person at a time and the group supports and provides coaching to each other.

Team Building Workshops This is for those who lead a team and want to create more of a high performing cohesive team. We focus on creating team synergy by leveraging values, understanding the art of conflict management, team vision and themes as a strategy to winning as a team.
